If you are in a situation where you need to report an act of sexual harassment, you may contact the University of Connecticut’s Office of Students Services, which provides support and resources for students, faculty, and staff. The Office of Students Services is the primary point of contact for students who have experienced sexual harassment or assault.

You can report an act of sexual harassment by filling out the online reporting form available on the Office of Students Services website. Once you submit the form, the Office of Students Services will provide you with further guidance on the next steps.

In addition to the Office of Students Services, the University of Connecticut also offers a variety of resources to support individuals who have experienced sexual harassment or assault. These resources include counseling services, legal assistance, and academic accommodations.

If you need immediate assistance, you can contact the Connecticut Sexual Assault Hotline at 860-295-0505 or the National Sexual Assault Hotline at 800-656-4673.

The University of Connecticut is committed to providing a safe and welcoming environment for all students, faculty, and staff. If you or someone you know is experiencing sexual harassment or assault, please do not hesitate to seek help.
